College Statement and Statistics

President Jeremy Travis

An international leader in educating for justice, John Jay College offers a rich liberal arts and professional studies curriculum in a vibrant urban setting. For nearly 50 years, John Jay has been fulfilling its mission of developing graduates who have the intellectual acuity, moral commitment and professional competence to confront the challenges of crime, justice and public safety in a free society. The college is the most racially and ethnically diverse senior college within CUNY, with more than 15,000 students who represent more than 130 countries from around the world. John Jay students are defined by their resilience, their passion for justice and their aspiration to public service. Our job is to subject their passion to the rigors of critical thinking and analysis and to test and support their aspirations by building bridges between the world of intellect and imagination and the world of practice. Our alumni have long held leadership roles in public-sector agencies and private companies throughout the United States and the world.

The graduate program offers nine master's degrees: Criminal Justice, Forensic Computing, Forensic Mental Health Counseling, Forensic Psychology, Forensic Science, International Crime and Justice, Public Administration, Public Administration/Inspector General, and Protection Management. The CUNY doctoral programs in Criminal Justice and Forensic Psychology are also at the college. In addition, 17 centers and institutes enhance academic research and provide professional development and training.

The strength, reputation and vitality of the college are embodied in the academic excellence of its faculty, many of whom are recognized experts in such areas as violent behavior, DNA analysis, drug-abuse trends, child aggression, sexual abuse, eyewitness reliability, criminal law, police methods and crime reduction strategies.

The John Jay campus is on the west side of Manhattan near Lincoln Center and Central Park, and the city serves as an important extension of our campus. The college recently opened a new building that includes more than 600,000 square feet of state-of-the-art "smart" classrooms, forensic labs, a moot court room, a technologically advanced conference center and emergency management and high-rise simulator labs.

As fierce advocates for justice, we at John Jay are dedicated to nothing less than providing a new vision for an education in justice that imbues our graduates with the skills, insights and passion to become positive agents of change.

Moreover, there have been significant changes in library technology and the way in which libraries are used since this library was built. This project will reorganize the library to create more functional spaces for students as well as to incorporate state-of-the-art technology.
